To develop mindsets, we enlist the help of local businesses and their employees to volunteer as role models to deliver learning experiences, share their experiences, and become role models. Partnering with Junior Achievement allows your employees to support young people in our community and contribute to your corporate social responsibility efforts by sharing their skills and experiences with youth.

Central AR Turkey Bowl November 20th

Join us for the 2025 Turkey Bowl on Thursday, November 20th at Millennium Bowl in North Little Rock. Teams of five will bowl, eat, enjoy adult beverages, and compete for a chance to win a frozen turkey — all while supporting critical youth programs around financial literacy, entrepreneurship, and work readiness. Registration is $50 per person or $250 per team, with VIP upgrades for teams who raise $750 or more (including swag and unlimited drinks). Don't miss your chance to be part of the fun, be a fundraiser, or support as a donor.

Allen Engstrom believed that investing in properties within the vibrant community of Argenta was a strategic business decision. Recognizing the area's potential for growth and development, he saw an opportunity to capitalize on the rising demand for real estate. Engstrom evaluated various properties, weighing the risks and rewards, and felt that taking a chance in an evolving market could lead to substantial long-term benefits. His venture aimed not only to enhance his portfolio but also to contribute positively to the neighborhood's revitalization.
